Upcoming WTI/UNITAR e-Learning Courses in 2011

The World Trade Institute (WTI) in partnership with the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) offers e-Learning courses in the field of international trade policy and regulation. The four week long courses are designed specifically for officials and professionals wishing to deepen their knowledge and understanding of international trade. The courses are entirely delivered via the internet, including thematic online discussions moderated by mentors who possess in-depth knowledge and experience of current trade challenges and issues. Certificates of Completion shall be awarded to successful course participants.

WTI and UNITAR are pleased to inform you that registration is now open for the following e-Learning courses which will be offered in 2011.

- Managed Mobility: Trade, Migration and Labour Movement (9 May to 3 June 2011)
Mentors:
Prof. M. Panizzon (WTI, University of Bern / NCCR Trade Regulation) and
Dr Ryszard Cholewinski (International Labour Office)
- Trade and Climate Change (20 June to 15 July 2011)
Mentor:
Dr A. E. Appleton (Appleton Luff, Geneva)
- Preparing and Conducting Services Negotiations (3 to 28 October 2011)
Mentor:
P. Sauvé (WTI, University of Bern / NCCR Trade Regulation)
- Food Security – Trade and Investment Policy Challenges (21 November to 16 December 2011)
Mentor:
Dr Ch. Häberli (WTI, University of Bern / NCCR Trade Regulation)

The course organizers should be most grateful if you would draw the attention of your colleagues and other interested parties to the above-mentioned courses.
