GLOBAL JURIST SPECIAL MENTION 2007

Dear Mr. Mr. Kamal Gadiyev

International University College of Turin shares much of the aims of Global Jurist (BePress), in particular the idea that legal issues should be finally discussed outside of the narrow limits imposed by positivism, parochialism, ethnocentrism, imperialism and chauvinism in the law, in order to develop a truly international community of legal scholars. Within this framework IUC launched the Global Jurist Medal aiming at encouraging innovative researches over global capitalism.

Your work has proven to be a valuable contribution by providing a thorough and critical analysis that aims to better grasp the complexity of global capitalism. Hence, I am pleased to announce that your article “Arbitration of Energy-related Disputes under the Energy Charter Treaty” has been selected for the first edition of the Global Jurist Medal 2007 and you have been awarded the:

Which also implies that your article published in Global Jurist Topics.

We encourage you in pursuing your research activity on these issues.

With all my best regards,

Ugo Mattei
