

WTI in Partnership with Gujarat National Law University (India)

The World Trade Institute (WTI) is very proud to have supported the Gujarat National Law University (GNLU) International Moot Court Competition (GIMC). This 2nd Annual Competition took place in Gujarat from 3 – 7 February 2010. The GIMC attracted competing teams from 36 Indian and other universities. Christian Häberli (WTI/NCCR) was a judge in the Final Round; he also presented the WTI and discussed further collaboration possibilities between the two institutions.

This is a significant step forward in the achievement of the aims and objectives of the WTI and the GIMC, especially the dissemination of knowledge related to pressing issues in international trade. We are confident that this relationship will pave the way to developing scholastic excellence and legal acumen in our participants whereby every one of them leaves this competition with improved understanding and skills relating to Public International Law and International Trade Law.

The WTI awarded the winning team (alternatively the runner-up) with a scholarship to its five week Summer Academy on International Trade Regulation, taking place this year from 12 July to 13 August.
