Course Description:

Intellectual property rights play an increasing role in international trade and the process of globalization and regionalization. Global value chains and division of labour strongly depend upon intellectual property protection which in turn also influences trade flows. The module expounds the fundamental principles of IP protection and policy in the multilateral trading system of the WTO and preferential trade agreements. It offers an introduction to different forms of rights, scope of rights, and students are exposed to leading WTO case law. The module particularly focuses in a case study on the implications of patents on public health and pharmaceuticals in the developing world. The module offers an introduction into trademarks and geographical indications and explains the different modes of registration of intellectual property rights and research tools for patent and trademark landscaping. The introduction is taught by academics, former trade negotiators and experienced practitioners.

Exams and Grades:

24 hours take home assignment to be released on Friday after class.

Biography of the Lecturers:

Thomas Cottier

Prof.em. Prof. Dr. iur, Thomas Cottier, former Managing Director of the World Trade Institute, is Professor Emeritus of European and International Economic Law at the University of Bern, senior research fellow at the WTI and associate professor of law, University of Ottawa. He published widely in the field of international economic law, with a particular focus on constitutional theory and intellectual property. He directed the national research programme on trade law and policy (NCCR International Trade Regulation: From Fragmentation to Coherence) located at the WTI from 2006-2014. He is an associate editor of several journals. He was a visiting professor at the Graduate Institute, Geneva, the Paris I Sorbonne, University of Barcelona, and regularly teaches at the Europa Institut Saarbrücken, Germany, at Wuhan University, China, at the University of Torino and more recently at the University of Ottawa, Canada. He was a member of the Swiss National Research Council from 1997-2004 and served on the board of the International Plant Genetic Resources Institute (IPGRI) Rome during the same period. He served the Baker & McKenzie law firm as Of Counsel from 1998 to 2005. He held several positions in the Swiss External Economic Affairs Department and was the Deputy-Director General of the Swiss Intellectual Property Office. Prof. Cottier has a long-standing involvement in GATT / WTO activities. He served on the Swiss negotiating team of the Uruguay Round from 1986 to 1993, first as Chief negotiator on dispute settlement and subsidies for Switzerland and subsequently as Chief negotiator on TRIPs. He has served as a member or chair of numerous several GATT and WTO panels and is a member of the pool of ten appeal arbitrators under the MPIA of the WTO. And on a high level panel reviewing the International Health Regulations of the World Health Organization.

Martin Girsberger

Dr. Martin Girsberger is Head of the unit 'Sustainable Development & International Cooperation' at the Swiss Federal Institute of Intellectual Property (IPI), where he has been working since 1998. He is responsible for the intellectual property-related aspects of sustainable development, including biodiversity, environment, and food and agriculture. He has been a member of the Swiss delegations to the Intergovernmental Committee on Intellectual Property and Genetic Resources, Traditional Knowledge and Folklore of the World Intellectual Property Organization; the TRIPS Council; and the Convention on Biological Diversity. Additionally, he is responsible for the international cooperation activities of the IPI, which aim at improving the economic situation in countries through reforms in the field of intellectual property. Martin Girsberger holds an Attorney at Law, a Dr. iur. (University of Berne), and an LL.M.-degree (Duke Law School). He is the author of several publications covering the issues of traditional knowledge, Farmers' Rights, access and benefit sharing, and intellectual property.

Matthias Käch

Matthias Käch served as Head of Training at the Swiss Federal Institute of Intellectual Property (IGE) for seven years. He started working for the Trade Mark Division of the IGE twenty-two years ago as trade mark examiner. After receiving a DAS in Intellectual Property Rights at the University of Bern in 2004 he worked as a member of the trade mark opposition section as well. In 2009 he started lecturing as an IP-Trainer regarding all fields of intellectual property with the main emphasis on trade mark law. In 2010 he received a MAS in Brand- and Marketing Management at the University of Applied Science in Luzern. Since 2011 he was Head of Training and offers today lectures as Senior IP-Trainer.

Erik Thévenod-Mottet

Erik Thévenod-Mottet is advisor at the Swiss Institute of Intellectual Property for national and international affairs on geographical indications (GIs) and indications of source, since 2009. He previously worked as a researcher within European scientific projects, as well as in a certification body or for interprofessional organisations, always in relation to GIs.

Kamran Houshang Pour

Dr. Kamran Houshang Pour is patent expert and IP trainer at Swiss Institute of Intellectual Property (IPI) in Bern. After obtaining a PhD in physics at the EPF Lausanne he worked as product manager at Nortel Networks in Zurich, where he conducted yield improvement projects for the existing products, qualified new products and introduced them into the market. He later cofounded a consulting entity providing technical supports especially for young startups by the quality management as well as by the technical questions. After a master in statistics at the Université de Neuchâtel he returned as Post Doc to EPFL (TRANSP-OR) conducting an externally financed project on modelling customer behaviour. Since 2008, he is working at IPI, where as patent expert he conducts different type of patent searches, such as validity or freedom-to-operate searches, and examines patent applications in his field of knowledge. As IP trainer, he gives lectures on diverse intellectual property subjects at the universities and in the companies.

Kathrin Rügsegger

Kathrin works as an advisor on innovation, intellectual property and public health at IPI. She holds a master's degree in International and European Law from the University of Bern and a bachelor's degree in International Relations from the University of Geneva. She grew up bilingually in Zurich with German and English and is fluent in Spanish and French as well. Kathrin is very passionate about the field of international negotiations. Together with Prof. Felix Addor, she is responsible for organizing the Model United Nations Seminar at the University of Bern as well as teaching the students basic skills in negotiations.

Jayashree Watal

Ms. Watal is Adjunct Professor at Georgetown Law and Honorary Professor at the National Law University, Delhi. She was Counsellor in the Intellectual Property Division of the World Trade Organization from February 2001 to July 2019, where she has dealt with negotiations on TRIPS and public health. She has more than twenty two years of experience in government in India, of which ten years was devoted to policy, diplomacy, research and administration on intellectual property rights, including representing India in the TRIPS negotiations. She has researched and published on issues related to intellectual property rights, including a book Intellectual Property Rights in the WTO and Developing Countries (Oxford University Press, India and Kluwer Law International, 2001). She was a Visiting Scholar at the Center for International Development at Harvard University (2000) and at the Institute for International Economics, Washington DC (Oct. 1998-August 2000) and at the George Washington University Law School, Washington, D.C. (1997- 2000). She worked in the Government of India, Ministry of Commerce as Director, Trade Policy Division, New Delhi (1995-1998). She has a post-master's degree in trade law (DESS) from the University of Paris-V; M.A. in Economics from Gokhale Institute for Politics and Economics, Pune, India; and a B.A. from Fergusson College, Pune, India.
