Course Description

This course will explore how to harness the international trade system to advance sustainable development. We will look at what is now permitted under the WTO Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT) and what should be permitted were the international regulatory architecture to be revised to better meet the UN sustainable development goals (SDGs). First, the legal foundation of GATT Articles III and XX and the TBT Agreement will be discussed from the perspective of the SDGs; then we will explore whether existing international trade rules are adequate to meet environmental, governmental, labour and human rights challenges. Our thesis is that international trade rules and standards and regulations must evolve to meet the SDGs in general, and climate change in particular. Our case studies will draw upon the Climate Change agreements, the EU's Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM), and over-exploitation of palm oil in environmentally sensitive tropical regions.

Lecturers

Arthur E. Appleton, JD, PhD

Adjunct Professor, Johns Hopkins University (SAIS – Europe)
and IE University (Madrid)
Partner, Appleton Luff – International Lawyers
Appleton@appletonluff.com

Arthur E Appleton is an Adjunct Professor of International Law at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies in Bologna (SAIS-Europe) and SAIS Washington, DC, where he teaches International Trade and Investment Law. Christian Häberli, PhD (Law)

Christian Häberli has been a Fellow of the World Trade Institute (WTI) since 2007 and works as a lecturer and a consultant for scientific research and outreach activities in Europe, Asia, Africa, and in the Americas. He has produced over 70 publications on trade and investment issues related to agriculture, food security and food safety, obesity and malnutrition, water and fish, climate change, employment, multilateral and regional trade, and development. In 1977 he earned a PhD with a thesis on African Investment Law (Basel University). He also has university degrees in Development Sciences from Geneva (1975) and in Theology from Bern (2009).

His professional career started in 1978 with the International Labour Organization (ILO) and with the Swiss Government, based in Madagascar, Thailand, Nepal, and Switzerland. Christian Häberli was a trade negotiator for Switzerland in the GATT and in the WTO, during the Uruguay and the Doha Rounds (1986 to 2007). He was Chair of the WTO Committee on Agriculture (Regular Session, 2005 – 07) and served as Chair (every other year) of the Joint Committee of the Agriculture Agreement Switzerland–EU (2002 to 2007). He also served as an Panellist in WTO and bilateral trade disputes, involving various TBT claims (1996 – 2020). (<https://www.wti.org/research/publications/?author=44>).

Learning Objectives

At the end of the course, participants should be able to:

- Better understand the trade and investment implications for sustainable development, and the sustainable development goals (SDGs) under the TBT Agreement, and GATT Articles I, III and XX.
- Comprehend which sustainable development issues may be addressed under the TBT and GATT Agreements, and which issues fall within national policy space.
- Better appreciate the national and private sector policy space available under the TBT and GATT Agreements, in particular opportunities arising from the Trilogy cases (Tuna, Cloves, and COOL), such as labelling schemes.
- Identify gaps in the TBT and GATT Agreement that undermine fulfilment of the SDGs.
- Analyse existing and prospective trade-related issues, such as global warming, energy crises, animal welfare, labour and human rights concerns.
- Evaluate when sustainable development arguments are being made for legitimate objectives, protectionist purposes, or both.

Assessments, Presentations and Grading

- There will be a graded Basic Knowledge Quiz on Monday 3 July 2023 noon, worth 20% of the final grade.
- Active (meaningful) Participation, will count for 20% of the final grade.
- Both lecturers will provide a set of questions or topics for Individual or Group Presentations. These presentations are voluntary but may contribute to the active participation grade.
- A Take Home Exam Assignment worth 60% of your grade will be made available on Thursday 6 July 2023, 17:00. This exam is “open book” but needs to be completed on individually. All texts must be submitted before 7 July 2023, 20:00 to masters@wti.org
- Participants not requiring ECTS points are free to participate in these knowledge assessments, but they will not receive grades.
