| Root Number: | 446634 |
| ECTS: | 3 |
| Lecturer: | Sara Núñez-Évora and Roy Santana |
| Dates: | 23 – 27 January 2023 |

Room: The is a hybrid course. The course will be held on-site at the World Trade Institute and online on Zoom.

Audience:

- Government officials; Embassy staff; people working for international organizations and NGOs, industry and in legal practice
- Master of Advanced Studies of International Law and Economics (MILE) Students
- Joint LL.M. / Diploma of Advanced Studies Trade and Investment Law (TRAIL+) Students - World Trade Institute / Faculty of Law, Unibe
- Certificate of Advanced Studies / Diploma of Advanced Studies in International Law and Economics (CAS ILE & DAS ILE) Students - World Trade Institute, Unibe
- Students from different universities across Switzerland

Course Description

The course will introduce students to the main international trade rules on market access for trade in goods, focusing on the key border management measures. Students are expected to acquire a thorough understanding of the rules applicable to different forms of border control measures and to appreciate the challenges faced in applying the WTO rules.

The course will focus on the basic border management measures (tariffs, tariff classification, customs valuation, rules of origin, and quantitative restrictions), including the applicable WTO rules, practice and jurisprudence, as well as practical challenges faced by traders. The course will conclude by providing a brief introduction to the concept of trade facilitation and an overview of the new Trade Facilitation Agreement. The course will also explore, through focused discussions and practical exercises, the legal and practical implications of issues such as Schedules of concessions, bound tariffs, tariff renegotiations under Article XXVIII, other duties and taxes, tariff rate quotas, non-tariff barriers, prohibitions and restrictions, as well as the manner in which the new agreement on Trade Facilitation Agreement seeks to improve the clearance procedures.

This course will be of particular interest to those interested in private sector trading, government negotiations and regulation. It will also be of particular interest to those working in customs compliance matters or on the export side of companies and those supporting such companies as consultants or via institutions like the Chambers of Commerce.

Lecturer

Sara Núñez-Évora

Sara Núñez Évora is the Head of Customs at On AG, a sports apparel and footwear Swiss company. As part of her role, Sara is involved in the set up of the Trade & Customs practice in-house covering a wide range of topics such as tariff classification, customs valuation, preferential treatment, customs brokerage management, audits, customs documentation, etc. Previously, Sara worked for the private sector advising companies on customs topics as well as for international institutions and governments on trade policy in Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Roy Santana

Roy Santana is an expert on tariff and customs matters who has worked for the Market Access Division of the World Trade Organization since 2004, including as Secretary of the Committee on Market Access and the Committee on Customs Valuation. He has also provided support to several negotiations and WTO bodies, including the Committee of Participants of the Information Technology Agreement (ITA), the 2016 expansion of the ITA, the Negotiating Group on Non-Agricultural Products (NAMA), the Environmental Goods Agreement (EGA), and the Trade Facilitation Agreement Facility (TFAF). He has served as a technical liaison in eight disputes under the Dispute Settlement Understanding, contributed to many reports and publications by the WTO Secretariat, and has frequently trained government officials in a number of WTO agreements. Mr. Santana holds an LL.M. in Trade Regulation from New York University (NYU), as well as a degree in Law and a bachelor's degree in Economics from the University of Costa Rica.
