

Preventing and Combating Violence Against Women and Domestic Violence

A Commentary on the Istanbul Convention

Elgar Commentaries in Human Rights series

Edited by Sara De Vido, Professor of International Law, Ca' Foscari University of Venice and Micaela Frulli, Professor of International Law, University of Florence, Italy

This Commentary provides the first comprehensive analysis of the Council of Europe (CoE) Convention on preventing and combating violence against women and domestic violence (the Istanbul Convention). It offers a complete article-by-article guide to the Convention with reference to the explanatory report, the findings of the monitoring body (GREVIO) and relevant State practice.

'This book provides a masterful overview of the Istanbul Convention, with its article-by-article commentaries, critical assessments of its strength and weaknesses, and comparisons with other legal regimes to combat violence against women. Taken as a whole, this book clarifies and illuminates, and is a necessary resource for anyone working in this area.'
